Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

It was three hundred and twenty-seven years ago, in 1621 to be exact, that the first Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, and it was in that year that the first Thanksgiving Day was observed, in order to give thanks to Divine Providence for the bountiful harvest and many blessings they had received... and so it has continued down through the years, until now Thanksgiving Day has become a National holiday, set aside each year in order that we might take time out from our duties to bow our heads in prayerful thanks to Almighty God for blessings received through the year... with a 50-50 record of four wins and four losses so far for the season, Stanislaus football team journeyed to Alexandria, La., on Thanksgiving Day to meet St. John's School in the CYO Bowl game there, let's hope they do as well as the Fleas and Flies did in Birmingham in the Toy Bowl game... the Rev. Giroux M. Jones, who last week was chosen as Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Louisiana, served many years as visiting pastor of Christ Episcopal Church here, and is a native Mississippian... the incessant rains of this past week have wrought considerable damage to the temporary beach road and the approaches to Union and other streets leading to the beach, which all the more emphasizes the need of some quick and direct action toward securing funds for the rebuilding of this vital section of our city's transportation system... several motorists have had to secure wrecker service to get their cars out of the mud... this is a bad time of the year for turkeys... they really get it "in the neck" in more ways than one... Hancock County Chamber of Commerce now boasts of the largest membership in its existence, and still growing since the drive does not close until the end of the month, so if you really want to see your town grow and prosper, climb up on the C of C bandwagon—JOIN NOW... many Bay St. Louis followers of the "Sport of Kings" will be making frequent trips to New Orleans for the next several months to see their favorite "bang-tails" in action, since the Fair Grounds inaugurated its 1948-49 racing season, Thursday to last through March... in an editorial published in the New Orleans Item of Tuesday, November 23rd, the Junior Class of St. Stanislaus was commended for its interest in present world affairs, as shown by a letter written by the Junior Class to the Item's "Letters from Readers" column and which was published in the same issue... the editorial says in part, "When a nation's citizens-to-be display a mental horizon of such breadth... there isn't much room for apprehension about the younger generation... they'll all go right"... and we fully agree with them... The following article appeared in the Daily Herald of December 4... Dayton L. Robinson, water rent collector for Pass Christian since last September, 10, said today that approximately $10,000 has been collected but there still remains 220 unpaid bills in the City... The recently installed water rent collector pointed out that since September the City has completed a new six-inch artesian well near doubling the water output, and installed a new pump in order to provide much higher water pressure for all sections of the town... Mr. Robinson said that the city plans to install new and larger mains in those areas in the city now inadequately serviced... We must have the cooperation of all the citizens of Pass Christian if we are to go ahead with the planned expansion program, Mr. Robinson said, and that means the 220 bills overdue must be paid or arrangements made with the collector in the near future.

ALLEN YOUNG AND MISS LUCILLE BENVENUTTI MARRIED

Miss Lucille Benvenuti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D. Benvenuti of this city and Mr. Allen Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orey Young of Ocean Springs, were married at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church on Sunday, November 21 at 3 p. m. by the Right Rev. Monsignor Andrew J. Gmelch.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a becoming suit of light blue wool, with a small black hat and black accessories and a white orchid corsage. She had as her maid of honor and only attendant her sister, Miss Betty Benvenuti, who wore a light grey suit with a small black hat. Her corsage was of mid-get white chrysanthemums. Mr. Young had as his best man his brother Glen Young.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in State street for the family and bridal party.

After a short trip to Florida the young couple will be at home in Ocean Springs.

W. A. McDonald And Sons To Pay Off In Silver Dollars At Request Chamber Of Commerce

To impress the people of Hancock County of the importance of payrolls, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has through the cooperation of the firm of W. A. McDonald and Sons, evolved a plan to have this firm make its weekly payroll this week in silver dollars. The workmen are asked not to deposit their silver money nor to have it exchanged for paper money, but to spend it through the regular channels of business. The merchants are requested to cooperate and to give the silver dollars in change asking the customers to whom it is passed on to use it in trade and not to put it away nor to deposit it in the bank. Through this medium it is hoped, with the full cooperation of the workmen, the business men and others into who hands this money will find its way to show the far reaching effect of a payroll.

Your Chamber of Commerce is moving along and plans are being made for a bigger and better Hancock County. At the present time the membership is larger than at any time since it came into existence. It can do big things if the membership will only cooperate and work to accomplish worthwhile objectives. The membership of the Chamber of Commerce can be doubled. Many times the question is asked, Why should I join the Chamber of Commerce? The answer is simple. It is the only medium through which the business men of the County can express themselves as a group and work as a unit to make a bigger and better county.

We are certain everyone lives in hopes that this will someday be accomplished. Join the Chamber of Commerce, your thoughts expressed and carried to a definite conclusion may help bring this about.

For her portrayal of the luscious entertainer it was necessary for Marlene to wear evening gowns in the night club sequences. The star insisted on donning the same outfits, now nine years old, in which she entertained troops overseas during the war. Miss Dietrich made this selection for the sake of realism, believing that the German girl she was playing would have two or three nice dresses which she had kept throughout the war in spite of bombings and everything else. The dresses would, therefore, be old. However, because the gowns are as glamorous today as when Irene designed them for Marlene in 1939, many members of the company and

SOPHOMORES PRESENT
"OATMEAL FOR DINNER"

In response to a lively demand for a brisk, bright modern skit, Dramatic Club members from the Sophomore class decided to put on a Thanksgiving play and the result was both happy and snappy.

Clever plot situations and a well balanced cast characterized this presentation.

Paradoxical as it may seem, everyone enjoyed oatmeal instead of the proverbial turkey for Thanksgiving dinner.

FASHIONS CAPTURE PRIZE FOR SENIORS

At a costume party sponsored by the Sodality Social Committee including Betty Colson, Joyce Ansardi, Noelle Dick and Nannette Arceneaux, the Seniors who depicted fashions from the "Gay Nineties" to the present "New Look," were voted the best group.

The Freshies were a close second portraying the wital scene from Macbeth. Around the cauldron could be heard in accents "soft and low":

"Double, double toil and trouble;

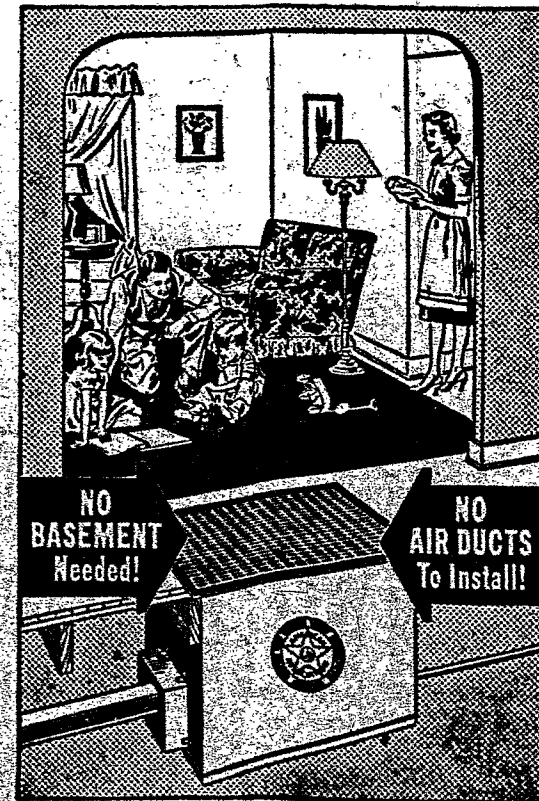

visitors asked the star if she bought them in Paris on her recent trip there To convince them that they were old, Marlene produced a batch of photos showing her with G. I.s in Italy, wearing the same dresses.

In "A Foreign Affair" Miss Dietrich sings three torch songs, especially written for her.

Fire burn, and cauldron bubble. Fillet of a fenny snake. In the cauldron boil and bake; Eye of newt and toe of frog, Wool of bat and tongue of dog, Adder's fork and blindworm's sting, Lizard's leg and howlet's wing, For a charm of powerful trouble, Like a hellbroth boil and bubble."

This scene of weird mystery was planned and executed by the Freshies as agent reminder to the Seniors that they remember the tragic passage, because of its close association with Freshmen initiation. The juniors appeared with evil eyes gleaming at all from behind hideous masks, trying their best to frighten the guests. Various types of twins were personified by the Sophomores. Individual prizes were won by the "Flappers," Nannette Arceneaux, Jackie Quintini and Susan Smith; "Nature Boy and Girl," Ann Chapman and Betty Benvenutti; "Pumpkin Twins," Mary Nell Strickland and Alice Braud, and "The First Witch from Macbeth," Mary Helen Curran. In the younger group, Barbara Thompson and the Cow Girls, Linda Shepard, Eugenie Jacobs, Eslander Guillot, Scott Harbert, Kay Turpen and Judy LaNasa won prizes. Blending with this atmosphere of mystery and disguise the guests enjoyed soft persuasive music.

Cart Ahead Of Horse In Present Forestry Practice

By ROLAND WESTON

I noticed in this paper some time ago an advertisement from the Mississippi State Forest Service regarding penalties for clear cutting land and not complying with State regulations as to the manner of seed trees left after cutting saw logs and pulp wood.

I realize what I am going to say in the following paragraphs will be probably of a controversial nature but since I am the first native Mississippian to become a Forestry graduate and, as far as I know, the first Mississippian to fight fires in woods, I do not believe anyone can accuse me of not having the interest of forestry and conservation at heart, more particularly so as it was due to a large extent to my direct and indirect efforts that State Forestry laws were passed and forestry got started as a State wide activity.

The laws the State has passed regarding leaving seed trees and penalties for violations of same are splendid and necessary, but since my return from War Work in Washington in the fall of 1945, it has seemed to me that the Mississippi State Forestry Department Representatives have been more diligent in enforcing the cutting laws than in fighting fires.

I wish to say again that I am very much in favor of these seed tree laws, but I believe we are getting the cart before the horse. It does not make any difference how many seed trees we have, we cannot get young trees to grow if the ground under, around and about these trees are burned every year. For instance, as we all know this past summer was a very dry one. I know of one fire that burned over sixty hours and covered three or four hundred acres but nothing was done about it. I also know of another fire that burned about forty-eight hours and covered two hundred and fifty to two hundred acres and nothing was done to control it. There were numerous other fires besides them.

The point I wish to make is that fire protection and prevention should come first and the enforcement of cutting regulations second.

The reason why the greater portion of this State is barren and without young trees is because of fire and not lack of seed trees, therefore, since winter and the worst time of the year for fires is coming on, I think all state and individual activities should be concentrated on prevention and control of forest fires, first and enforcement of cutting regulations second.

I hope these remarks will be considered as constructive criticism. The State Forestry Department, considering the finances at its disposal, has done a marvelous job in trying to take care of the millions of acres now under their protection.

Veterans' News

Job openings for qualified stenographers with the Veterans Administration in Washington, D. C., still exist, VA has reported.

Entrance salary for these positions is $2,498 per year with good chances for quick promotion. Travel to Washington for those accepted will be paid by the Government.

Employment may be obtained through any regional office, hospital or Center of Veterans Administration in Texas, Louisiana or Mississippi.

Leading chest specialists of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi met this week in Bandera, Texas, for a 3-day exchange of experiences in the treatment of tuberculosis and other chest diseases.

The conference was sponsored by the Dallas Branch Office of the Veterans Administration.

Dr. Lee D. Cady, VA's Southwest Medical Director, predicted that the Bandera conference and others next year will result in more uniform and improved treatment of tuberculosis throughout the tri-state area.

A series of cases from VA, state and county tuberculosis hospitals were discussed by the doctors.

A talk on the atom bomb and the use of radioisotopes in medical research and treatment was made by Dr. George Lyon of VA's Central Office, Washington, D. C.

Some veterans in schools and colleges are not receiving their subsistence allowances regularly because of their failure to identify themselves properly when corresponding with VA.

To avoid delays, they should use their full name, address and claim number on all forms and correspondence.

Drivers Examination Will Keep People Off Highways They Know What To Do

Colonel T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety says, "The Drivers Examination Program in which all new drivers must pass a written or oral test on rules, a vision test, sign test and actual driving test is one of the best ways we have of keeping the people off our highways until they at least know what to do. During the month of October with fourteen specially trained officers we examined 7,919 people who had never had a Mississippi Drivers License. Of this number 46% or almost half of these failed on their first examination."

52 people failed on vision until correction could be made.
356 for failure to know road signs.
2,566 for failure to know Laws or Rules of Road.
624 failed on their actual Driving Tests.

Says Birdsong further, "we have examined for ten months of this year, 66,198 people with 28,101 failures on their first examination."

We realize our accident rate is high. However, this program is doing much towards keeping it down as low as it is."

Temperance Means Moderation

Dr. Benjamin Rush, a physician-general of the Continental Army and a signer of the Declaration of Independence, is often regarded as "Father of the American Temperance Movement."

To Dr. Rush, the word "temperance" did not mean "prohibition." As leading American physician of the Eighteenth Century, he well understood the evils of intemperance and fought against it.

But he also understood and appreciated the benefits of moderation. He advised his fellow countrymen to imitate the sober settlers of Pennsylvania, whose alcohol beverage was almost solely the beer they brewed from barley malt.

When Dr. Rush advocated temperance, he did not mean prohibition of all alcoholic beverages, as many professional "dry" agitators would have you believe. Then, as now, the word temperance was a synonym of moderation.

From where I sit, it looks like the word temperance has suffered at the hands of the professional prohibitionist.

LINCOLN COUNTY SHARES OIL TAX COLLECTIONS

Officials of other counties gave a rousing cheer this month for Lincoln County, the state's leading oil producer, and home of the Brookhaven and Mallett fields.

Lincoln became the first county in the state to hit the "double peak" of annual oil severance tax collections, and thus had its tax "cut back" twice in a year, thereby dividing with the other counties a tax collected by the state on its production.

Most counties retain one-third of the tax collected on their production; two other counties (Adams and Yazoo) have been cut back to ten per cent; but Lincoln is the first to be sliced down to five per cent.

This comes about by the "formula" set up in the original oil severance tax law, which set a levy of six cents per barrel or six per cent of the per-barrel sale price, which is greater.

Under the law, a county gets one-third of the oil severance tax collected in the county—until the tax reaches $600,000. That gives the county $200,000. Then the county "cuts back" to ten per cent of the monthly collections; last year Adams, Lincoln and Yazoo all went past the $600,000-mark and achieved the first "cut back." With production and price both high, the same three reached the "cut back" figure earlier this year.

But the law says that when any county hits $1,200,000 the tax above that suffers a second "cut back"—to five per cent.

Its September report, just filed, shows Lincoln County to have passed the $1,200,000-mark that month; therefore, it gets back but five per cent of the oil tax collected for the remaining three months of the year.

Hall Wallace, director of the oil tax division of the State Tax Commission, says that Adams and Yazoo may hit the $1,200,000 figure too by the end of the year—but just barely. Lamar and Jasper Counties, will top the $600,000-mark before year's end and be subject to a first "cut back."

This is important to other counties, because all of the oil tax not returned to producing counties goes into the state's general fund, to be appropriated by the legislature for state wide purposes, education, health, court support and other items.

LIVING FENCES FROM MULTIFLORA ROSE

Fences from multiflora rose will be started in Mississippi by the State Game and Fish Commission from a shipment of twenty thousand multi-flora rose plants which are expected to arrive soon. This is the first time that multiflora rose, which has proven so acceptable in the east and midwest as a living fence, has been tried in Mississippi or in this section of the "deep south." The plantings by the Commission, under

If you are puzzled this week end by the large number of silver dollars in circulation, it is a demonstration of the effect of one medium sized payroll in a community.

Thanksgiving

This nation has come a far piece since those pious Pilgrims assembled in 1621 to give thanks and offer up prayers to Providence after they had gathered their fine harvest. Gradually the Thanksgiving idea became an American tradition and is generally observed.

How much more we have for which to be thankful in 1948 than the Massachusetts colonists had in 1621. The nation has produced an abundant harvest that may reach in value an unprecedented total of 35 billion dollars in new wealth from field and farm. Indications point to a record breaking national income. We have full employment, we enjoy high wages and support the world's highest living standards.

And the Deep South comes rapidly and richly into its inheritance as it is universally heralded as the country's foremost opportunity. Mississippi, too, is on the march in industrial and agricultural development as the Gulf Coast community gathers its share of prosperity and achievement.

These are indeed piping as well as hectic times. As our nation assumes world leadership, its people face grave and increasing responsibilities. We cannot even partially feed, clothe and finance a sick world back to economic health without high taxes and full production. Without our machines and farms, our workers and savers, we could never have attained a position of world leadership. And we cannot maintain for long our enviable position in international service, except as we remain strong, economically and spiritually.

So while we count our many blessings and give thanks to Providence for an abundant harvest and the prevailing prosperity, we rededicate ourselves and our fortunes to rebuilding a world and strengthening the Republic. We cannot afford to be weak under the circumstances.

We should be thankful above all else in America for our free enterprise system of equal opportunity. The nation stands today as the fruition of an idea purchased at great sacrifice. Our first objective is to preserve it. Good character, hard work, true thrift and imperishable ideals forged this nation out of the wilderness. It will remain strong only as we pursue the course laid out by those who founded the Republic.

the Farm-Game-Habitat Improvement Project, will be experimental to determine the adaptability of the plant to Mississippi soils and climate. Plantings made in other states have produced stock proof fences in three years. It does not spread and at the same time provides excellent cover and feed for quail.

The Farm-Game-Habitat-Improvement Project was set up by the Commission early in 1948 to cope with the increasing loss of game habitat areas throughout the state.

Clean farming practices, the abandonment of the old rail type of fencing, and increasing territory devoted to cattle raising has been one of the greatest limiting factors in game bird production throughout the state and nation. The program is based on feed, water, and cover and embraces other activities that planting of living fences from multiflora rose.

All plants of multiflora rose in the shipment obtained by the Commission have been previously allocated to selected areas for planting.

Bay Tigers Camp Leroy Johnson Play In Chocolate Bowl for American Legion

On Thursday night Nov. 11, the Bay Tigers played in the second annual foot ball classic the Chocolate Bowl. Their opponents this year was the team of Camp Leroy Johnson of Louisiana. wonderful football skill. The Tigers scored early in the first half and converted making the score 7 to 0 in their favor remaining this way until the closing minutes of the game when Camp Leroy after several tries shot a quick pass into the right end zone and the receiver scored standing up. The conversion was good and the game ended in a 7 to 7 tie. Music at periods was furnished by St. Rose De Lima High School Band under the direction of Rev. Father Conrad Kinder. This classic was inaugurated by the Clement R. Bontemps Post of the American Legion and has proved such a success that it is hoped that it will be a yearly event.

Thanksgiving, with its rich wintertime spread of roast fowl, dressing, cranberries, and pumpkin pie, has traditionally been regarded as the opening salute to a season of good eating which expires only when the last slice of the last Christmas fruitcake has been eaten.

This year, unlike in the past few winters, homemakers have available a plentiful supply of the pecans so essential to holiday cookery. Town dwellers will find paper shelled pecans, which last year were selling for around 60 cents a pound, on display at their favorite grocery store priced at anywhere from 20 to 40 cents a pound. Overcoats For UNITED GAS Pipe Lines...

A heavy protective coating is normally applied to every foot of new pipe line laid by United Gas. That's because pipe is of steel and must be protected against rust. A typical coating consists of primer, enamel and spiral-wrapped covering, although certain conditions make it necessary to supplement the covering with other types of protection. More than 6,000 miles of main United Gas transmission lines, providing natural gas to 354 cities and towns in the Gulf South, are thus guarded against leaks caused by the ravages of rust.

This is one of many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a more dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

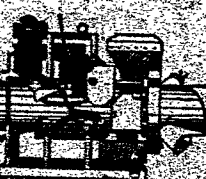

UNITED GAS

Serving the Gulf South

A mechanical cleaning machine brushes dust from the outside of the pipe line, then applies a coat of primer.

A second machine applies a thick coat of enamel—the principal insulation—and one or more wrappings of material to protect the enamel. When cool, the enamel provides a hard surface resistant to acids, moisture or electrolytic action of the soil.

An electronic detector finds the faintest of flaws in the covering, and those spots are coated by hand.

More payrolls mean more employment—more employment means more money spent locally—more money spent locally means more prosperity locally. The firm of W. A.
